IMG Americas Relocates Headquarters to Greater Boston; Celebrates 10 Years in North America

Waltham, Mass. — December 12, 2006 — The Information Management Group (IMG), a provider of innovative business engineering services for SAP solutions, today announced it has relocated its North American headquarters from Kennett Square (PA) to Waltham (MA). The move, which coincides with IMG's ten-year anniversary in North America, was made to centralize executive and administrative functions and accommodate company growth.

“2006 has been a banner year for us in North America,” said Klaus Schottenhamel, president and CEO of IMG Americas. “While our ten years in the US is a significant milestone that demonstrates our commitment to and success in this market, 2006 is also the year in which we increased headcount by 37% and doubled our service revenue,” continued Schottenhamel. Schottenhamel noted this growth has been fueled by demand for North American and international implementation support for SAP® Business One, All-in-One, and mySAP Business Suite solutions.

“We are delighted by the growth and progress IMG Americas has made not only in the US but as part of the IMG international network of business engineering consultants,” noted Alfred Ermer, CEO of IMG in St. Gallen (Switzerland), the parent company to IMG Americas. “IMG Americas has made great strides in its mySAP engagements working with leading food manufacturers, sophisticated medical equipment providers, and logistics giants,” continued Ermer, “And, they have established themselves as the go-to implementation partner for global SAP Business One implementations. We fully expect this success rate to continue and the entire IMG team congratulates the Americas on their success.”

With North American headquarters now located at 1400 Main Street in Waltham (MA), IMG Americas will continue to maintain an office in the Greater Philadelphia as well as regional offices in the Southeast and Midwest, and on the West coast.
